

Blasts from the Past!

The San Diego Press Club,
San Diego State University and San Elijo Hills
Salute San Diego Radio Legends!

San Diego's great radio personalities will take center stage on Sunday, May 6 when the local media community and 22 top area chefs celebrate "Blasts From the Past: The San Diego Press Club, San Diego State University and San Elijo Hills Salute Radio Legends."

Now in its fourth year, the Press Club's annual "Salutes" event honors an individual (or individuals) whose careers have made a significant impact on San Diego journalism and media. Past Honorees have been Jerry Coleman, Neil Morgan and Lionel Van Deerlin. This year, the focus is on the creative talent that voiced the history of this city during the '60s, '70s, and '80s.

Guests will be treated to Golden Oldies, political asides, and one wacky story after another by the likes of rock jocks Harry "Happy Hare" Martin, Paul Menard & Jack Woods (of Charlie and Harrigan fame), Jerry G. Bishop, Joe Bauer (Hudson & Bauer), Bill Gordon, Ernie Myers, radio newsman Reid Carroll and more. These were the personalities that chronicled three decades of San Diego history, offering their own unique brands of news reporting, light-hearted good humor, mischievousness and social activism.

Food and wine will be an important part of this fun event. Twenty-two of San Diego's top chefs will be there - offering a gourmet feast accompanied by wines offered by several regional wineries. It promises to be a laugh-filled, musical, colorful and delicious celebration you won't want to miss.
